It is a violation of Guilford College policy to engage in acts of retaliation or intimidation against anyone who brings forth a complaint of sexual assault, misconduct or harassment. Such acts should be reported to Campus Life (in the case of a student) or Human Resources (for non-student members of the College community) and will be dealt with promptly and with severity according to the Student Code of Conduct or the Faculty/Staff Handbook.

Sexual Misconduct Reporting Protocol

Guilford College is committed to maintaining a community free from violence. The college will not tolerate instances of sexual assault as defined by state and/or federal law.

Guilford College encourages all students to make themselves aware of the college's guidelines for the reporting allegations of sexual assault, the consequences of sexual assault, and the resources available.

The Quaker heritage of Guilford College stresses spiritual receptivity, candor, integrity, compassion, tolerance, simplicity, equality, and strong concern for social justice and world peace. Thus, Guilford College expects all members of the college community to act in respectful and responsible ways toward each other.

These principles make clear that sexual misconduct is unacceptable behavior, and encourages members of the college community to create the kind of environment in which an act of sexual misconduct would be unthinkable. It is the college's commitment to thoroughly and quickly investigate reported incidents of sexual misconduct, and to preserve the confidentiality of both the reporting student and the accused student to the degree that is possible. Charges of sexual misconduct will be pursued as a violation of the Student Code of Conduct outlined in the Violations section of the Student Code of Conduct.
